Estonia - where Medieval Meets Modern

Estonia is a country of contrasts. A large proportion of our nation's land is designated as natural protection areas. At the same time, Estonia is on the vanguard of technological development. Get acquainted with our small, beautiful, and interesting land!

Real food and great prices

Estonian gastronomy is really taking off and "a personal touch" is very much its leading slogan. Whether you are a dedicated carnivore, veggie or enjoy all sorts of dishes, salty or sweet, Estonian towns and villages have a range of restaurants and gastropubs for an affordable dinner in unique surroundings that are often inspired by architecture and untouched nature.

Island retreat and beach holiday combined

Estonia has six larger islands with well-kept traditional culture as well as over a thousand tiny inhabited islands offering beautiful, peaceful and friendly atmosphere. Many of these islands also hide excellent beaches great for camping, sunbathing and swimming.
