Description of the event:

Guests arrive at the beautiful site in the desert. They will be met by camels upon their arrival for a short camel ride in the desert.

On site, a magnificent Bedouin tent awaits the group, standing with all its authentic colorful ornaments - carpets, rugs, straw mats, mattresses pillows and brass vessels. Guests will enjoy watching pita baking on the open fire, in the traditional way, while the Bedouin invite them for a taste.

Following this welcoming part of the feast, guests will be invited to enter the tent for the primary program to begin.

The traditional Bedouin hospitality ceremony will then take place including traditional story telling and the ancient coffee serving ceremony.

Guests will be seated on mattresses, or wooden stools, around low round tables.

Rose water Hand washing ceremony will treat the guests and then the meal is traditionally served on large platters to the centre of the table. A belly dancer will perform for the group during the dinner.

After dinner the guests will be transferred back to their hotel in Jerusalem
